

News & Updates

If we learned nothing else in 2020, it's that communication is key. We hope to keep all of our patients informed with everything new and exciting going on within our practice and the allergy & asthma community as a whole.

COVID-19 Vaccine News

Dr. Crosby receives her 1st COVID vaccine at Centura Health.

CAAC physicians and staff are very excited about the COVID-19 vaccine. Most of our providers and staff have already received both of their vaccines. Unfortunately, CAAC is unable to secure inventory of the vaccine, and therefore, will not be administering vaccines at this time. We will keep you updated if and when that changes. In the meantime, feel free to visit our website with any questions related to vaccine safety as it relates to allergies.

Oral Immunotherapy (OIT)

Colorado Allergy & Asthma Centers® is proud to offer oral immunotherapy treatment options to our patients for peanut allergy. This treatment works to gradually desensitize you to food that caused an allergic reaction.

Considering OIT for you or your child?

This is the look of a very happy patient who went from being peanut allergic to tolerating 3 whole peanuts after just 12 visits to our clinics!*

Farewell to two wonderful physicians

Dr. John James retired in December of 2020 after 23 years of service to his Fort Collins and Greeley patients. Thank you for your service to your patients and community!

Dr. Catherine Van Kerckhove retired in December of 2020 after 24 years service. She worked within many of our clinics, ending at our Littleton clinic. We appreciate your dedication to this practice and your patients!

...and welcome two new physicians!

Ryan Buckley, MD joined us in August of 2020 and sees patients in both our Castle Rock and Littleton clinics. Welcome Dr. Buckley! The Castle Rock clinic is also now open on Fridays!
